Art Unit 1711

Applicants' claim 12 has been renumbered in accordance with Rule 126 as claim 11.

The substituents in applicants' Abstract are undefined. Correction is required.

Claim 6 ends in a semicolon rather than a period while claim 11 lacks a period. Correction is required.

Claim 10 ends in a semicolon. Furthermore claim 10 has more than one period and is not in the form of a complete sentence and is therefore objected to. Correction is required.

Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicants regard as the invention.

Claim 10 after the first line is senseless and appears to have little or nothing to do with the first line of claim 1 and does not define what compound of Formula 1b is nor does Formula 1b appear in any preceding claim. Furthermore it is unclear which group of compounds recited on pages 4-9 applicants are intending to claim especially considering that it is merely recited that one group after another is preferred.

Claim 11 is unclear since it recites that the various substituents containing primes are in fact the various R groups of claim 1 despite the fact that not any R group can correspond to any other R group. If applicants are intending to recite that the various primed R groups do not correspond to the same R groups of claim 1 except that no prime is present, i.e. R'₁ corresponds to R₁ and the various substituents of claim 11 lack antecedent basis in claim 1 then it is suggested that after Formula I that applicants insert the word "respectively" if that is what is intended. Furthermore it is not clear what is intended by the formula "Ic" in that Formula Ic is not defined.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. § 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. § 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. § 101.

Claims 4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 4 and 8 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,608,083. This is a double patenting rejection.

The non-statutory double patenting rejection, whether of the obviousness-type or non-obviousness-type, is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent. In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); and In re Goodman, 29 USPQ 2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Art Unit 1711

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b) and (c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a non-statutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.78(d).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-54 of U.S. Patent No. 6,608,083. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because choice of the species of the patent claims would have been obvious to a practitioner having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention in the expectation that one species would work as well as another absent any showing of surprising or unexpected results.
